FIELDDEZ

for BFSI

Overview

The Indian banking, financial services and insurance (BFSI) industry has entered an era of 'digital transformation'. In an increasingly competitive environment, financial organizations find that customers not only expect personalized and relevant products, but a convenient and quality experience as well. Added to this are the evolving regulations and the expanding roles of oversight bodies, which demand cohesive and flawless on-ground execution and leave little or no room for mistakes.

BFSI organizations find that they must be agile and responsive to meet these regulatory and customer demands by capitalizing on the strong connection between modern core banking systems and customer touch points. Knowing more about customers is not just important for doing good business but also for monitoring and ensuring asset quality, ensuring compliance and ultimately good governance. Internal stakeholders like business heads, sales managers and field sales executives need real-time access to critical customer information to make smarter and more informed decisions on the go.

FieldEZ helps BFSI organizations automate critical operations to improve customer acquisition and on-boarding, customer profiling and targeting by gathering accurate and reliable field intelligence and making field intensive back-office functions highly efficient.

About FieldEZ for Banking

FieldEZ offers a mobile on-demand field workforce automation solution configured for the BFSI industry. With FieldEZ, your field sales force can make the most of every sales opportunity by accessing critical information to educate potential customers, simplifying customer on-boarding and delivering a superior customer experience. This easy to use, intuitively designed solution can align the right field sales agent with a customer requirement based on skill mapping to improve the overall lead management and customer acquisition process.

Benefits

Improve sales efficiency and productivity

FieldEZ's solution enables end-to-end planning and tracking of lead generation, cross-sell and up-sell activities, streamlining processes, customer acquisition and customer on-boarding. The highly configurable and flexible workflows ensure that the sales process can be constantly tuned to strike the right balance between selling and ensuring compliance. FieldEZ can readily integrate with third-party software and hardware including CRM systems, compact scanners and those that offer paper to digital form conversion. This can significantly reduce application processing time without compromising on necessary paperwork

Gather real-time information from the field

Management can gain actionable business intelligence and insights in the form of real-time updates from the mobile devices of distributed sales teams, right up to the last-mile. FieldEZ has helped a leading Indian bank improve lead conversion from 9 percent to 32 percent by providing accurate and actionable business intelligence around revenue generation activities, while eliminating manually intensive work involved in providing such visibility.

Build a high-quality customer base

Accurate customer profiling and product targeting ensures greater asset quality. FieldEZ enables customer profiling data to be gathered at the right stage of the selling process, allowing BFSI representatives to pitch the right set of products to the right customers. BFSI organizations can leverage FieldEZ's capabilities to map catchment areas and plan their sales activities for maximum efficiency.

Facilitate enterprise-wide collaboration

With regulatory, process and product information disseminated to the distributed work force on their mobile devices, timely feedback from the field is used to fine-tune the decision-making process. FieldEZ's message board feature enables meaningful formal and informal interactions, be it in the context of business, human resource policies, or security policies, resulting in a high-performing workforce.

Improve customer engagement and satisfaction

By ensuring that important customer touch points deliver the best experience, FieldEZ enables proper knowledge and information dissemination to the sales force. This helps them evaluate their performance against organizational benchmarks. With easy access to the organization's training resources, field sales personnel can improve and educate themselves on changing customer and industry requirements, resulting in a more relevant quality sales experience for the customer.

Ensure effective asset management

FieldEZ enables better asset management through automation of loan approval processes and tracking the end use of disbursements. For instance, bank representatives can use FieldEZ to capture relevant data for various asset classes (such as housing or agricultural loans) that are critical to loan approval. Representatives can also track the progress of housing, infrastructure and other projects ensuring effective deployment of loan disbursements toward monitoring asset quality.
